What is ULS Productions all about?

The Urban Life Skills Program (ULS) is a gang intervention program in the Little Village neighborhood on Chicago's Southwest Side. ULS Productions is the construction component where the youth from the program are being trained by our professional carpenters. The youth are mentored and taught how to build and design various projects. Our beanbag sets are designed and created by the youth and mentors. All of the profits from their work will go directly to the youth and the expansion of ULS Productions. Through this we will train the youth in business management, provide career training, and empower them for the future. We want to purchase a shop, equipment, and expand opportunities for youth in Little Village. Thanks for supporting ULS Productions as we expand the opportunities for these youth!
